[i] When making a transfer that requires one or more currency exchanges, we will need to exchange the Sender's currency into the Beneficiary's currency. To do this, we apply the exchange rate set in our International Money Transfer system on the day of the transfer. You can check our daily rates and fees before confirming the transfer. The fee and exchange rate will be displayed on the transfer screen and will also appear in the transaction history.

[ii] Tariff for the period of validity of special conditions for international money transfers of individuals to China. The Bank has the right, at its sole discretion, to extend the period of validity of the special conditions, change the tariff amount and/or other conditions.

[iii] Tariffs for international money transfers to the Republic of Uzbekistan and the Kyrgyz Republic apply from the date of technical implementation and actual availability of the corresponding transfer destinations.
